Eight questions for the jar. Cut them out and drop them in, or hand one to each person at the table.

What made you laugh this year?

Who helped you when you had not asked?

What did you learn to do this year?

A meal you would eat again tomorrow.

Something about the person on your left.

A small thing from an ordinary day.

Something that was hard, and turned out all right.

Who do you wish were at the table?
